Continuing Formation in Community/Fraternity

The Christian tradition values the process known as lectio divina, ordinarily understood as reading and reflecting upon scripture.

In the past few years the folk in Collegeville, after producing the new Collegeville bible with all of its wondrous visuals, have begun to promote lectio visio, reflecting upon the great illustrations.

There is also, I believe, lectio audio ... [some of our friars] could be invited to a community gather of 30 minutes 3 times a week, in which a chapter of a book would be played. Those who wanted to could stay for a short reflection on what they heard.

—Ed Foley
